FOR IMMEDIATE RELEASE

NEW E-LEARNING RESOURCE LAUNCHES ON DEMAND DIGITAL ACCESSIBILITY COURSES

WeCoLearning™ offers Design, Development, Content and Communication professionals an easy solution for engaging people with one or more disabilities—almost 27% in the U.S.

This fresh approach to understanding digital accessibility and the challenges of real users with disabilities is the vision of Lynn Wehrman, Founder President of Digital Accessibility by WeCo who realized, “Accessibility is a skill that can be learned.”

WeCoLearning self-paced courses include:

- Various types of disabilities and the unique needs they present
- Web Content Accessibility Guidelines (WCAG)
- Basic and advanced WCAG and ADA digital accessibility requirements

WeCoLearning solves the digital accessibility dilemma. It’s a platform that gives individuals as well as departments and teams the knowledge they need with the convenience they want. Membership based. Available at the office, hybrid or remote. Anytime. Anywhere. All inclusive.

WeCoLearning™ is a product by Digital Accessibility by WeCo® a woman and disability-owned and led business of experts who live with one or more disability. Our mission is to support accessibility, awareness, and independence for all people, regardless of their disabilities by assisting the businesses, corporations, and organizations they utilize.
